

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	xii
List of Maps	xiii
Preface	xiv
Dramatis Personae	xviii
Glossary	xxiii
PART I
Mental Horizons: The Peoples, Islands and Shores of the Imagination	1
Chapter 1: Finding People from Other Worlds	3
I: Was Mankind Created More Than Once?	3
II: Was Intelligent Life Created More Than Once?	7
Chapter 2: Wild Men and Wanderers	10
I: Columbus Sets his Course, August 1492	10
II: Strange Peoples	14
III: Wild Men of the West	18
IV: Wild Men of the East	20
V: Men without Reason	21
Chapter 3: Images of Asia	24
I: Rumours of Japan	24
II: Letters to the Rulers of the Orient	27
PART II
Eastern Horizons: The Peoples, Islands and Shores of the Eastern Atlantic	31
Chapter 1: Innocence and Wildness in the Canary Islands, 1341–1400	33
I: Seven Miniature Continents	33
II: The View from Florence, 1341	36

III: A Pastoral Idyll	40
IV: Wild Solitude	42
V: The Revelation to the Pagans, 1400	44
Chapter 2: The Canary Islanders, 1341–1496	49
I: Uncontaminated Gentiles	49
II: Island Berbers	51
III: The Naked and the Clothed	54
IV: Pagan Rites	58
V: Divided Realms	62
Chapter 3: Rights of Dominion, 1341–1496	65
I: Contrasting Priorities, 1341–51	65
II: The Grumbling Canon of Zurich, 1370/1450	68
III: Missions to the Edges of the World, 1344–1400	70
Chapter 4: Quarrelsome conquerors, 1402–44	76
I: Chivalry and Greed, 1402–4	76
II: Prince Henry's Ambitions, 1424–36	82
III: Nearly Wild Men, 1436–60	86
Chapter 5: Gold and Slaves, 1444–96	90
I: Black and Brown Slaves, 1444	90
II: Africa in Western Eyes	92
III: Castile Claims its Share, 1479–96	95
PART III
Western Horizons: The Peoples, Islands and Shores of the Western Atlantic	103
Chapter 1: From the Old Canaries to the New Canaries, 1492	105
I: The Island of the Holy Saviour, 12 October 1492	105
II: Simple and Beautiful People, October 1492	110
Chapter 2: Taínos and Caribs	115
I: Early Peoples of the Caribbean	115
II: The Taíno Indians	117
III: In Harmony with Nature?	119
IV: Chieftains and Families	123
V: The Caribs	125

Chapter 3: Turtles, Shamans and Snorting Tubes	131
I: A Humble Friar	131
II: A World outside Time	137
III: Conversations with the Dead	141
Chapter 4: Cuba = Cipangu = Japan, 1492	145
I: Going from Good to Better, October 1492	145
II: The Discovery of Cuba, October–November 1492	149
III: An Imperfect Paradise, November 1492	153
IV: Cannibal Tales, November 1492	155
V: Spain's New Dominions, November–December 1492	158
Chapter 5: La Navidad, 1492–3	162
I: The Second Spain, December 1492	162
II: Naked Kings, December 1492	164
III: The First European Settlement, Christmas 1492	167
IV: First Encounter with the Caribs, January 1493	172
Chapter 6: First News of the New World, 1493	175
I: Reports from Paradise, 1493	175
II: The Golden Age, 1493/1511	178
III: A Borgia Divides the World, May 1493	183
Chapter 7: Into the Caribbean, 1493–4	187
I: Columbus Visits the Cannibals, November 1493	187
II: Violence in Paradise, 1493–4	192
III: The Spanish Stockade, 1494	196
Chapter 8: Misrule in Hispaniola, 1494–6	199
I: Fleeting Glimpses of Cathay, 1494–5	199
II: Pacification by Means of War, 1494	201
III: Handcuffs from Heaven, 1495	206
IV: Tribute in Gold, 1495–6	207
Chapter 9: The Project Unravels, 1497–8	213
I: A Pear-Shaped World, 1498	213
II: 'In their demeanour like to brute beasts', 1497–8	217
III: The Virgin and Child of Calicut, 1497–8	220

Chapter 10: Columbus Eclipsed, 1498–1506	224
I: Roldán's Rebellion, 1498	224
II: Towards the Lands of the Mayas, 1502	228
III: The Moon Turns to Blood, 1503–4	235
IV: Encomienda Tribute	238
PART IV
Southern Horizons: The Peoples and Shores of Atlantic South America	239
Chapter 1: Vespucci's Tabloid Journalism, 1497–1504	241
I: A Florentine Publicist	241
II: A Voyage of the Imagination, 1497	244
III: Vespucci's Cannibals, 1499	251
IV: Slavers and their Victims, 1499–1504	258
V: America Is Born, 1507	260
Chapter 2: The Land of the Holy Cross, 1500	262
I: The Lands of the Tupinambá	262
II: The Great Blemish	265
III: Cabral's Landfall, April 1500	268
IV: Cabral among the Tupí Indians, April 1500	271
V: An Innocent People, May 1500	274
Chapter 3: The Realm of King Arosca, 1505	278
I: Brazilwood and Black Slaves, 1501–11	278
II: A Lost French Ship, 1503–4	279
III: Cruel Eaters of Men, 1504	282
Chapter 4: A Compulsory Voluntary 'Requirement', 1511–20	286
I: The Church in the New World, 1492–1516	286
II: Aristotle and the American Indians	288
III: The Laws of Burgos, 1512	293
IV: The Doctrine of Submission, 1511–13	294
V: Theory and Practice in Cuba, 1511–13	299
VI: Mexico, a New New World – But Strangely Familiar, 1520	302
Conclusion – The Renaissance Discovery of Man	306
I: The True Discoverer	306
II: The Wonder of Discovery	308
III: The Encounters Continue	310

CONTENTS

xi

Abbreviations	314
Notes	317
Bibliography	343
Primary Sources	343
Secondary Works	349
Index	366