

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

I. Introduction

1. Findings and Perspectives 3
NORMAN NAIMARK
2. The Politburo's Role as Revealed by the Lost Transcripts 16
PAUL GREGORY

II. The Power Struggle

3. Stalin in the Light of the Politburo Transcripts 41
HIROAKI KUROMIYA
4. "Class Brothers Unite!" The British General Strike and the Formation of the "United Opposition" 57
ALEXANDER VATLIN
5. Stalin, Syrtsov, Lominadze: Preparations for the "Second Great Breakthrough" 78
OLEG KHLEVNIUK

6. The “Right Opposition” and the “Smirnov-Eismont-Tolmachev
Affair” 97
CHARTERS WYNN

III. Discourse, Ideology, and Propaganda

7. The Way They Talked Then: The Discourse of Politics in the Soviet Party Politburo in the Late 1920s 121
ROBERT SERVICE
8. Making the Unthinkable Thinkable: Language Microhistory of Politburo Meetings 135
LEONA TOKER
9. The Short Course of the History of the All-Union Communist Party:
The Distorted Mirror of Party Propaganda 165
RUSTEM NUREEV

IV. Economic Policy

10. Grain, Class, and Politics During NEP: The Politburo Meeting of December 10, 1925 181
R. W. DAVIES
11. The Politburo on Gold, Industrialization, and the International
Economy, 1925–1926 199
DAVID M. WOODRUFF
12. Prices in the Politburo, 1927: Market Equilibrium versus the Use of Force 224
MARK HARRISON
- Bibliography 247
- List of Contributors 259
- Index 261