

Contents

Foreword by Jeremy Black, vii

Part One The Downward Slope, 1

1 “Censored,” 3

Part Two Poland No Longer Between Germany and Russia, 27

2 Does Russia Still Exist?, 29

3 Between Bolshevism and Nationalism, 48

4 Mikaszewicze, 60

5 “Gomułkaism” (National Communism)
of the Twenties, 73

6 The First Great Provocation About the Alleged “Evolution of Communism,” 82

Part Three Between the Quality of Life and the Boredom of Communism, 89

- 7 The Second Phase of National Communism, 91
- 8 Alliance or Collaboration with the Soviet Invader?, 97
- 9 The Origins of “PAX,” 114
- 10 Pharisaism Versus Subversion, 123
- 11 The Second Great Provocation, 133
- 12 Along the Road of Classic “Poputnichestvo”
[Fellow-Traveling], 144
- 13 The German Complex, 156
- 14 Culture in the Stranglehold of Compulsory Infantilism, 168
- 15 The Real German Threat, 180
- 16 “Realisms” Versus Reality, 185
- 17 Pathos Versus Pestilence, 191

Part Four Let Us Hope . . . [1982], 197

Józef Mackiewicz: His Life, Work, and Views (A Chronology)
by Nina Karsov, 213

Notes, 239