

---

CONTENTS

Foreword by Howard R. Lamar vii

Preface xvii

Acknowledgments by Richard W. Etulain xxv

ONE The West in 1901 1

TWO Agricultural Frontiers: New Farms and Family Farmers 20

THREE Agricultural Frontiers: Farming on New Scales 53

FOUR New Forms of Economic Growth 89

FIVE Economic Growth from the 1940s 116

SIX The Urban Occupation of the West: Rails, Roads, and Cities 149

SEVEN Rails, Roads, and Cities from the Second World War 185

EIGHT Social Relations and Social Attitudes: Cultural Bases 225

NINE Social Relations and Social Attitudes:
Putting Down Roots—Agencies of Acculturation 264

TEN Western Politics 300

ELEVEN Expanding Electorates 338

TWELVE Frontiers of Land and Opportunity:
The Variously Far West 376

Notes 405

Supplemental Bibliography by David M. Wrobel 535

Index 549