

Contents

Illustrations follow page 148

Preface to the 2009 Edition	xiii
Preface	xvii
Introduction	1
Chapter 1 Creating Tradition: The Roots of National Park Management	7
Growth of the National Park Concept	11
Resorts, Spas, and Early National Parks	16
The Management of Nature	22
Chapter 2 Codifying Tradition: The National Park Service Act of 1916	28
Advocates and Opponents	29
The Statement of Purpose	38
A Utilitarian Act	41
Chapter 3 Perpetuating Tradition: The National Parks under Stephen T. Mather, 1916–1929	47
Building Park Service Leadership	48
A Formal Policy and a Bureaucratic Rivalry	56
Appropriate and Inappropriate Park Development	58

Deletions and Additions of Park Lands	66
Nature Management	69
The Predator Problem	71
Popular Wildlife Species	75
Forest Management	82
Ecological Concerns and Mather's Leadership	85
Utilitarian Aesthetics and National Park Management	88
Chapter 4 The Rise and Decline of Ecological Attitudes, 1929–1940	91
Park Service Leadership and the Wildlife Biologists	91
Conflict over Park Development	101
Biological Research	108
Rangelands and the Grazing Species	113
Predators	119
Fish	123
Forests	126
Expanding Park Service Programs	132
New Deal Impacts on the Park Service	140
Declining Influence of the Wildlife Biologists	145
Chapter 5 The War and Postwar Years, 1940–1963	149
Wartime and Postwar Pressures	150
Natural Resource Issues under Drury and Wirth	155
The Status of Wildlife Biology	164
The Road to Mission 66	173
Mission 66	180
Changes in Wilderness and Recreation Programs	191
The Public Hunting Crisis and a New Look at National Parks	195
Chapter 6 Science and the Struggle for Bureaucratic Power: The Leopold Era, 1963–1981	204
Mission 66 and Parkscape U.S.A.	205
The Leopold and National Academy Reports	214
The Pursuit of Bureaucratic Power	217
Environmental Legislation and Change	233
Policies—New and Old	243
Natural Regulation and Elk	246
Grizzly Bears	249
Forests	253
Exotic Species	258
The State of the Parks Reports	262

Chapter 7 A House Divided: The National Park Service and Environmental Leadership	267
Building an Environmental Record	269
The Vail Agenda	276
National Park Service Culture and Recreational Tourism	280
Epilogue	291
Abbreviations	309
Notes	311
Acknowledgments	383
Index	387